

Parent Governor Candidates

Iram Rehman

---

I am applying for this role as I have interest in every child's learning. I am keen they can do really well if the right things are put in place for them. Every child is different I want what's best for them and the school. We are new to this school and I believe there are some things that could be changed and made differently such as homework to be provided each week with the topic they have studied for that week.

I will be looking forward to working with the school closely and making sure things are done to the best of my knowledge.

I am someone who puts in her 100 percent making sure things are where they need to be.

I have previously worked in complaints team for a pension company also took a leaders role in organising charity events.

I have full DBS check carried out already as I pick up and drop of children with special needs.

Scott Bell

---

My motivation for standing as a parent governor stems from a passion for education and a desire to see our school governed with accountability and transparency. Having worked in a variety of sectors, including education software and services, I understand the policies that shape our children's academic experiences, such as Progress Scores and the structure of Multi-Academy Trusts (MATs).

I aim to bring a clear, data-informed voice to the board, questioning opaque decision-making within MAT governance structures. I also advocate for progressive behavior management strategies that nurture students and their mental health.

I am committed to encouraging continuous improvement by fostering an environment of openness and collaboration. Transparency will be a key priority, ensuring that governing body meetings and communications are better published for public access. I believe the school and MAT should treat all stakeholders—parents, staff, and students—as valued members of the community rather than passive participants.

My role as a governor would be to listen, challenge, and collaborate to secure the best future for our children, making sure their voices are heard and respected. I'll always be open to hearing your praises and concerns.